LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Chamber of Commons voted an address congratulatory to Captain Anderson, of the Great Eastern, and his crew, who have given to them a grand banquet.

The potato disease was spreading rapidly in some parts of England.

At present it only afflicts the vine of Prenehund, a Passe, merchant, whose cognac were understood to be exported.

In the opinion of the best botanists, the material was captured from them during their recent raid on Canada, has also been returned, the Government taking bonds from the Fenian authorities that the material should not be used in any unlawful undertaking.

What would have been said of the Canadian government, if it had abandoned the action for a time, and then, after a long interval, Allen said? In this very instance there was no cause for action against Roberts and his murdering compatriots, but have been restored all the arms and munitions of war captured during the late raid by these cut-throat scoundrels, and in addition have entered into bonds with the Fenians not to use any of the material of a friendly power, re-exported and enter into bonds with an Association organized, in opposition to its own laws, for the purpose of making war against its neighbor.

The authorities in the States have forgotten all that is due to a foreign power, and sinks its national honor in the hope of consolidating the Irish Fenians, so that they may be used at the coming fall elections.

It is but another evidence of the debasing influence of a government based upon the will of the people.

Mr. Wm. A. Shepard will shortly call upon those who have not yet paid him, to settle what he is entitled to, and what is to be paid up all arrears. The honest man has been the most bountiful Canada has had for years, and there is no reason why all accounts should not be squared.

INTERESTING OFFICE, Sept. 1866.

The Fenians and Yankees.

We have another evidence of the good will which the American Government entertains towards Canada and the British Government, in the following from the New York Commercial Advertiser:

"A Assistant Attorney for the Southern District of New York to enter a suite propositi in the case of the Fenian Head Centre of Roberts. This completes the list of Fenian prisoners in this country, all of whom have been discharged from further prosecution, except those captured from the rebels."

"Material was captured from them during their recent raid on Canada, has also been returned, the Government taking bonds from the Fenian authorities that the material should not be used in any unlawful undertaking."

What would have been said of the Canadian government, if it had abandoned the action for a time, and then, after a long interval, Allen said? In this very instance there was no cause for action against Roberts and his murdering compatriots, but have been restored all the arms and munitions of war captured during the late raid by these cut-throat scoundrels, and in addition have entered into bonds with the Fenians not to use any of the material of a friendly power, re-exported and enter into bonds with an Association organized, in opposition to its own laws, for the purpose of making war against its neighbor.

The authorities in the States have forgotten all that is due to a foreign power, and sinks its national honor in the hope of consolidating the Irish Fenians, so that they may be used at the coming fall elections.

It is but another evidence of the debasing influence of a government based upon the will of the people.

The London Times says that owing to the firm attitude of Prussia, the peace negotiations between Austria and Italy had made little progress.

The Italians agree to pay 73,000,000 francs on account of the Austrian debt for Venetia.

The Emperor Napoleon had received an autograph letter from the King of Greece, conferring on the Prince Imperial the order of the Iron Cross.

In regard to the grand cordon at Pergo, a Florence telegraph of the 19th says: "The official Gazette says that yesterday the grand cordon was broken before it was interrupted, the Government possesses no direct intelligence of the exact condition of the interior of the city."

"Why, man, you must be a t'at o' damed fule; man and buss got the catch a heap

"I reckon you was about?"

"Digging a grave, sir."

WANTED, A DECISION.—Two Germans once got into a dispute about the English language, each contending that it spoke louder than the other. They at length made a bet, and appointed a Judge to decide between them. "Well, Chon," said the first German, "I will bet that my language is louder than yours." "Very well, I will bet that it isn't," said John. "The judge has not yet given his decision.

THE TEXAS SONG.—A well known lawyer, whose lower extremities were very stiff, afflicted with the gout, was accosted one day on the way to his office by a beggar-woman seeking alms. He stopped her, and after a few words, made an appeal to her feelings by hearing a deep sigh, and saying, "If your humor is good, give me something."

HOT FIRE on a COLD Day.—Sir Walter Scott tells a story of a Scotch minister, who on a very winter day, was accosted by a fire-woman seeking alms. He stopped her, and after a few words, made an appeal to her feelings by hearing a deep sigh, and saying, "If your humor is good, give me something."

IMMEDIATE steps must be taken to enforce the provisions of the new Act, and those who are unable to purchase Lins can have a supply in application to the Health Officer.

NEW SONG.

The shades of night were falling fast, Till the stars of heaven in the light of day, A matto staving never paus'd.

And thus went on the day.

Each seeking to be numbered one.

To the place where that royal work is done, At Forrest & Lusk's Royal Photographic Gallery, Front Street.

Then come along, and bring your friends, To the place where art with beauty blends, And the heart with joy, And light the heart and cheer the mind.

At Forrest & Lusk's Royal Photographic Gallery, Front Street.

Then all who leave us with a smile, We hope to gain their approbation;

That they may recommend us well to all,

Both to the public and to us.

NEW SONG.

The shades of night were falling fast,
As through the streets of Belleville passed
Two young men, with a gay, gay gait,
A motto staving never past.

Again, when morning did appear,
Many for the day did start;
Each seeking to be numbered one,
To the place where drowsy Nature does, —
At Forrest & Loyal's Royal Photographic Gallery,

Front Street.

Then come along, and bring your friends,
To the place where all the girls are found,
And lightens the heart and cheer the mind,
At Forrest & Loyal's Royal Photographic Gallery,

Front Street.

And all the world was a-fair,
We hope to gain their approbation.

They may recommend us well at all,
For Forrest & Loyal's Royal Photographic Gallery,

Front Street.

And all the world was a-fair,
We hope to gain their approbation.
